Our News and Resources Website

Distinguishing Between the Sites

- There exist 2 places you can learn about the Justice & Racial Reconciliation Team at BelPres
 - <https://www.belpres.org/justice>
 - <https://www.belpresjustice.org>
- The former is a page maintained by the BelPres communications team. It will be updated this fall.
- The latter is our team's resource website, built in 2019 by Jocelyn Merchant.
- The latter has become a comprehensive site on justice and racial reconciliation from a Christian perspective.

Our Resources Website

- This site contains the entire printed history of our group
 - 9 Years of newsletter content turned into a blog with 4 categories
 - 9 Years of Event information put into a Calendar with 6 categories
 - Over 100 books, videos, movies, and podcasts that we have curated to confirm that they support our Christian perspective and activities on justice and racial reconciliation
 - Information on relevant organizations devoted to pushing back on systemic racism
 - Book and movie reviews written by our team members who have read the books and seen the movies – more on this shortly
